Eligibility

Anyone interested in the International Association for Dialogue Analysis can become an active member, entitled to all membership benefits, upon payment of membership fees. Membership is always for the calendar year (1 April - 31 March) in which the application and payment are made.

Membership includes:

- a subscription to the international peer-reviewed journal Language and Dialogue (John Benjamins)
- a 30% discount on the volumes in Dialogue Studies, published by John Benjamins.
- the right to vote on all issues pertaining to the life of the Association, as stipulated in the IADA Constitution
- reduced registration fees at the IADA conferences, symposia and workshops.

Important note: membership is valid only for the calendar year during which one becomes a member (or renews one's membership), even if this is already late in the year; for that year members will always receive the publications they are entitled to, though there may be a significant delay for paper copies (even into the next year) if the application is very late.
